

Through the homestay in Oliver

Raio Ueno

I went to Canada from August 3rd to August 8th . I learned many things there.

First, I learned hospitality. People in Canada are always kind and friendly. They understood what I wanted to do and taught me how to do that.

Next, I felt the differences between Canada and Japan. They have many kinds of pets at home. I was surprised to see that they took care of a lot of animals. People in Canada like pizza, hamburgers and salmon and so on. At first I thought they were delicious, but soon I wanted to eat rice and Japanese food.

I have one more thing that I will never forget. I made an English speech in front of many people in Canada.

Though I was very nervous, I could feel confidence after that.

Thanks to Bandai, I had a great experience in Canada. From now on, I will try to see the world widely and be active to talk to people in foreign countries.
